News Letter - Winter 2010

Welcome to the Global Air Training (GAT) News Letter, which offers a brief update on GAT training and activities this Winter. We would like to wish all of our clients a very Merry Christmas!

Global Air Training News

Case Studies Online - We have launched a new innovative E-Courseware store on line, to assist aviators with their training requirements.

This will enable Crew Resource Management (CRM) Instructors to purchase ready-built, user-friendly CRM case studies online from the GAT website. This unique tool will also allow instructors to have access to new case studies 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

Each case study has been designed and created by knowledgeable and current CRM Instructors, utilising the latest accident reports, to create a precise and concise training unit for effective classroom instruction. This database will provide simple, time-saving and flexible solutions, allowing instructors to update their information quickly and effectively to achieve maximum safety awareness.

The courseware package will offer a complete case study with supporting documentation, which will include an overview document providing synopsis, objectives, an outline of the CRM and other contributing factors, a session plan, a PowerPoint presentation, handouts and instructor notes.

For more information and to purchase courseware, please visit our website www.globalaviation.com

Awards - Congratulations are due to our Training Director Dianne Worby, who was the winner the Network She Cheshire Business Woman of the Year 2010 and was also shortlisted for the Trinity Mirror

Cheshire Business Woman of the Year. Congratulations are also due to our instructor Andy Turner, who has recently been re-accredited for his CRMI by the CAA. Very well done Andy!

Accreditations - Dianne Worby is still our resident CRMIE (Examiner). She has been very busy this year with examining, travelling all over the UK. If your CRMI is about to expire and you need to be re-accredited, please contact us for more information.

Overseas Training - Since our last newsletter we have been delivering training in Cyprus, Cape Verde Islands, Dubai, Channel Islands, Ras Al Khaimah (UAE), The Netherlands and Egypt.

Sponsorship - Sophie Hall has been raising money for the Welsh Air Ambulance. Sophie organised a car boot sale at a local venue. Everyone at GAT brought in any jumble that they had and we managed to raise £100 for the cause.

Later this month as part of her work within the community Dianne will be delivering a complementary presentation to the local Flight Simulation Group.
