Healthcare TRM Training in the Middle East

Taking the lessons learnt in Aviation in to the Healthcare sector, Global Air Training delivered Team Resource Management training in Abu Dhabi in January.

A large independent, public company, was launched in 2007 by the Government of Abu Dhabi. The company which owns and operates 12 hospitals, more than 50 clinics and over 2,600 patient beds, was created to manage and develop the curative activities of the public hospitals and clinics of Abu Dhabi.

They commissioned Global Air Training to deliver a series of 5 day Root Cause Analysis (RCA) Train the Trainer courses to build a capability and capacity within their organisation to deal with analyzing and learning from patient safety incidents. The courses, led by GAT's Healthcare Manager Sue Norwood (pictured above), were attended by senior managers from the 12 hospitals and company representatives.

Award Nominations

GAT has been shortlisted for the High Sheriff Award for Business Enterprise 2010...Watch This Space.

Welcome Back

You may remember that our PA Kate Crank left to have a baby last February. Kate has now returned back to work part time in a marketing role.

CAA revision to Stds. Doc 29

Version 4 of 'Standards doc 29' for CRM instructors and examiners has been published, minor text and editorial amendments have been made. A copy can be downloaded from the CAA website.

Global Air Training New Courses

Maintenance Error Decision Aid (MEDA)

The MEDA course develops the capability to perform effective maintenance error investigations and to contribute to an organisational culture in which error reduction can succeed. The highly practical course identifies and categorises the factors that contributed to the event, in order to make the maintenance system resistant to similar errors.
